

The Yale Center for Public Health Preparedness presents

Community Preparedness: Addressing the Needs of Diverse Populations

April 17-18, 2008
New Haven, Connecticut

Keynote Speakers

Jane Mobley, PhD

Jane Mobley Associates

Developer of the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention's Public Health Workbook to Define, Locate and Reach Special, Vulnerable and At-Risk Populations in an Emergency (Draft)

Cindy Daniel

Disability Coordinator

Federal Emergency Management Agency

The Yale Center for Public Health Preparedness is pleased to announce a community preparedness conference aimed at addressing the needs of diverse populations.

Conference Goal

To provide participants with tools that can be used to plan for the needs of special, at-risk and vulnerable populations during an emergency.

Who should attend?

Public Health Professionals
Emergency Management
Community Health Professionals
First Responders
Community Leaders

Topics:

- Emergency preparedness for diverse populations
- Emergency sheltering
- Ethical principals of emergency management concerning diverse populations
- Risk communication
- GIS and database systems in emergency planning for diverse populations

Registration

Registration deadline: April 4

Registration fee: $95

Space is limited so register as soon as possible!

To register, please visit our website at:

<http://publichealth.yale.edu/ycphp/conference.html>

YALE CENTER FOR PUBLIC HEALTH PREPAREDNESS

For more information, please contact: Cristie Duric by: cristie.duric@yale.edu